Edmonton Squad Set For Battle

Hope to Capture Game At Regina This Evening

EN ROUTE TO REGINA

WITH THE PLAYERS, March 25.—Even the Mounties couldn't have uncovered a single crying towel in the Flyers party as the embattled Allan Cup kings of last season headed east to Regina today.

Neither, however, was anyone listening in verbal berals, which after all generally make pretty good listening, to say nothing of being a waste of time insofar as accompanying much is concerned. So when the players (most of them, anyway) piled into the motor bus almost before the train had cleared the city limits it was with an air of "we've got business to tend to."

MERLUK ON TRIP

Staples "wing" Merluk, right-winger who suffered a cut foot in the semi-final series against Calgary, was in the Regina bound party. As well Gordon McDonald, chairman of the Flyers hockey committee, and I. A. (Lefty) Grov, a former chairman, were on hand.

Coach Frank Corrie sent his squad, at least those who felt like it, to Regina with a light load. Several hours before train time.

As well, certain of the pucksters who, like Merluk, are nursing injuries, came in for treatment. Mory Kinsdale, veteran point, has found the goals coming hard in the fight against the Regins, was one of a few speak directly about the fifth game of the series, scheduled for Queen City Gardens tonight.

"If we can take this one," Rimstad observed, "anything can happen."

SHORT REGINA STAY

Players will have less than six hours all told in the Saskatchewan capital on this Friday. They won't reach Regina until well past midnight and will have to leave before the game time.

The pull out of the train at Regina was reached in the other words the Edmontonians will have home again as one of them put it "in time to see Saturday's game."

They'll be a grimly determined lot when they take the ice to fight in an attempt to deal the Caps off the bottom. Down three games and with only a tie to the show to four starts—Frank Corrie's crew is hanging on what an old time sportsman might describe as "the brink of all absence."

In just one more setback in this underdog league, the Flyers' Carriemore are out. So tonight's clash with Caps is a big one, no matter how you look at it.

Maisie Forces Smiles Through Grim Ordeal

Bulletin Staff Reporter

ROCHESTER, Minn., March 25.—Twenty-eight Maisie O'Driscoll, a sick girl, was brought to the attention of the doctors at the Mayo Brothers Clinic at Rochester, Minn. Miss Abbott will report regularly on the progress of the child.

Here at the Mayo Brothers Clinic in this small Minnesota town, some of the leading specialists in the United States are trying to determine whether the child is suffering from a tumor of the brain. This morning she entered her second day of exhausting medical examinations.

Intense strain of yesterday's hour check on top of the long journey by air has left the little girl looking weary and fretful. But she is still the brave little girl who has patiently endured the greatest torturing headaches and falling convulsions.

Likely to become the best and most appealing ambassador to Rochester her home city has ever had, Maisie goes to the great test of all of the doctors about Edmonton. Though pale and frightened at the prospect of further blood tests, she grinned widely at the "nurse with the needle" and said "you should see some time."

We had arrived at the clinic shortly after 1:30 today. Maisie had no breakfast by doctor's directions. Two hours later I took her to the head X-ray department. And with her small, golden head fixed between clamps, she smiled. Oh, yes, Maisie is quite a kid, and certainly worthy of the spontaneous generous show by the hundreds of Edmontonians who as testified in the fund which may save her life.

As yet it is not known whether any operation is needed, or even possible. Results of the three-day examinations will not be made known until Monday, when her doctors are due to hold a joint consultation.

More examinations will be made this afternoon, and continued tomorrow.

$10,000 Extortion Try Admitted Here

Threats Are Used On Businessman

A 23-year-old Edmonton youth admitted in police court today that in the past three weeks he had attempted to extort $10,000 from a city businessman by means of threats.

William Nyskier, 1011 10th avenue, corroborated evidence that by threatening to make "certain disclosures" to police he had tried to force Earl E. Saunders, 9726 110th street, to give him the large sum.

He was arrested at 9:30 p.m. last night when he went to a rendezvous to pick up a parcel left by Saunders, purported to contain $2,000.

WRIT 2 LETTERS

Det. James Peterson told court that Nyskier had, between March 1 and March 24, made several telephone calls to his victim and had written two menacing letters.

In all communications, he had threatened to make certain exposures to police. A bail was set at $10,000.

A meeting was arranged the night of March 22 in order to pay the "bush" money, which was to be placed in the cab of a friend parked in front of Saunders' residence.

The victim did, but the plan was interrupted when the truck owner, hearing the truck door opening, came out of the house and removed the parcel.

Football Coach Stukus Planning Early Practices

Football practice for Edmonton's entry in the Western Canada Football Conference will start at the earliest possible moment, said Annis Stukus, the coach, on arrival here this morning.

"I'm an Edmontonian now," stated the ex-Argonaut star on reaching here from Toronto to take up residence.

Stukus refused to reveal names of star players he had in mind for his team, as he said it might prejudice chances of entering into a final contest with them.

Brother Bill was being sought as coach of Hamilton Tigers, which would definitely be in the fall. Both were as well as the Wildcats. Yet Annis did not shut the door on the possibility his starry brother might come to Edmonton.

LIKELY 11 GAMES

After talking with coaches of Winnipeg and Regina senior football clubs, Stukus said he was convinced the eventual schedule would be 14 games, with Calgary and Edmonton playing two extra games with each other.

While the whole question still had to be decided, it was likely the extra games would count one point instead of two.

He had a Canadian, rather than an American import, in mind for the quarterback position, Stukus said, but he refused to reveal his name or present club.

A nucleus of good players would have to be called from the East as soon as possible in order to build the team around them.

NO AID FROM LEAGUE

Edmonton could not use American players, but the league would be charged against the permission to total of five American imports.

The league is not making it "too far" a club just starting out, he commented.

Coach Duggan, chairman, and members of the players committee met Stukus at the CPR station on his arrival.

Railways Ask Boost In Passenger Fares

MONTREAL, March 25.—(CP)—The Railway Association of Canada today announced that it had filed with the transport board an application for a 15-per-cent increase in first-class passenger fares.

The association also announced that Canada Steamship Lines and its subsidiary, Northern Navigation Company, operating steamship passenger services on the St. Lawrence river and Great Lakes, had joined in the application.

OTHER NEW TARIFFS

The announcement by A. B. Brass, general secretary of the association, which represents all Canadian railroads, said the railways will also file with the board "as soon as practicable," new tariffs increasing by 15 per cent coach-class and other fares which now are lower than first-class passenger fares.

Earlier this year the railways in "some depressed" sleeping and parlor fares. The increase, varying according to locality, became effective Jan. 25.

The announcement followed a two-day session of the association which centered on the effect on the railways of removal of financial aid from the federal government.

PREVIOUSLY OUTLINED

Mr. Brass said: "This action follows a policy outlined before the board last Jan. 11 when C. F. H. Carson, association counsel, stated that if the federal tax on passenger fares were removed, the railways would be allowed to increase the rates by the amount of the tax. They would obtain a measure of financial relief without it being felt by the public. Other transportation modes, including bus lines, air lines, and waterways, were particularly hard hit by the removal of the tax in the application submitted to the government for removal of the tax."

Yesterday a man called at the home of Mrs. James McQueen and asked her to collect empty beer bottles for the Red Cross Society as containers for blood donations.

She gave him five dozen bottles.

Later she began to think the deal was rather unusual so she checked with the local branch of the Red Cross.

Blood was not put in beer bottles, she was informed.

Mrs. McQueen passed the information to the local branch.

Gov't Subsidizing Of Varsity Asked

Students' Union Recommends Fees Stay at Present Levels

Government of the province of Alberta should absorb increased costs of operating the University of Alberta and fees paid by students should not be raised.

This was the text of a resolution passed at a recent meeting of the students' union of St. Mary's High School.

Students said it was in the interests of the province to train the best material and the province has ample resources with which to support the university.

A second resolution was passed asking the provincial government to take immediate steps to institute a plan similar to the DVA scheme under which the domain government pays the tuition and living costs of student veterans.

The resolution asked the provincial government to approach the domain government immediately for aid in carrying out such a plan.

Spring Thaw Brings Road Ban

Spring thaw has brought about prohibition of heavy trucks on provincial roads in some areas.

All municipal and district roads in the Ponoka municipal district have been closed to heavy traffic with the exception of school buses. Tomorrow morning, highway 19 from Wetaskiwin to Wainwright will also be closed to heavy traffic.

Further bans are expected as higher temperatures bring the frost out of the ground and endanger the safety of the roads.

Present plans apply to highway 28 from Cold Lake to St. Paul and highway 41 from Rimbey to Mountain Park and from Coalgate to Ponoka.

SESSION END IS FORECAST FOR NEXT WEEK

Procrastination of Alberta's first session of its 31st legislature is expected by next Thursday or Friday.

Confident government officials had predicted the present sitting would end today.

More than 30 bills are now ready for royal assent by the lieutenant-governor, J. C. Bowen, but others have only finished the first reading stage.

Among those still to receive second reading and study by committee of the whole house is the bill to control the sale of margarine in Alberta.

It is expected the marginer bill will be discussed today.

FROM OTTAWA

James Armstrong, Ottawa, executive director for the Community Planning Association of Canada, will arrive in the city at the weekend. He will address a luncheon meeting at the King Edward hotel on Monday.

Scona Students Pay Tribute to Principal

One of Alberta's pioneer school teachers, George W. Robertson, retiring principal of Strathcona High School, was honored by 400 students of the school at a farewell concert and dance Wednesday.

Mr. Robertson came to Edmonton in 1907 and was one of the first teachers at Strathcona high school which had just been built. Later he taught at Victoria high school, McDougall Commercial and Grammar high schools and for five years was inspector of schools.

He was principal of Strathcona high for 11 years and when the school was amalgamated with Strathcona in 1958, he was named principal of the entire student body.

Students who paid tribute to "Bobbo" at Wednesday night's dance displayed a banner "So Long, Bobbo, But Not Goodbye."

Entertainment was provided by Jack Roberts, Crystal Marshall, George Healey and Gordon Holmes.

TIMBER TALKS GIVEN TO CITY STUDENTS

Need for public understanding and co-operation in soil and timber conservation is being stressed in Edmonton schools this week.

Conservation programs being presented in local schools by the Canadian Forestry Association, feature talks on the importance of Canada's natural resources and are supplemented by sound moving pictures in color.

Educational work in Alberta is directed by R. D. Purdy of Calgary, chairman of the Canadian Forestry Association's Alberta Board of Directors, and is conducted in local schools by Murray Pratt of the Association's western staff.

Students were told Alberta's best assurance for future prosperity for young people is conservation of the province's natural resources.

Mistakes of one generation in handling resources of nature often cause increasing difficulties for the next, the students learned.

CCF Leader Charges Gov't Evasion Tactics

Alberta government has avoided answering certain questions in the legislature by "scorning the small opposition," Elmer E. Roper, CCF MLA for Edmonton charged recently when he addressed the Edmonton CCF Constituency Association's annual banquet at the Seven Seas restaurant.

"The government considers statehood to be the art of labelling every move the opposition makes as 'childish' or 'ridiculous,'" he said.

"By the simple expedient of scorn the small opposition has avoided answering some pertinent questions. The government seems to feel any criticism is unwarranted."

Appreciation of CCF support of labor in the Alberta legislature was expressed by Jack Hampson, president of the Alberta Industrial Union of Labor when he introduced Mr. Roper at the meeting.

Because of pressure, the government has decided to bring a Labor bill before the legislature this session, he said.

Because government back-benchers are merely "rubber stamps of the cabinet," parliamentary law should be amended to give private members the right to a 15-minute speech, Mr. Roper said.

WESTERN NATIONS are easily a match for Russian machinations in Germany, in the opinion of Arvid Alekht, Edmonton youth who spent four months as a navigator with the RAF flying the airlift to Berlin. They would not permit smoke of Russian propaganda to interfere with effectiveness of the airlift.

Local Flier on Airlift 'Wars' With Russian

By Lloyd Jenkins

Berlin airlift flier Arvid Alekht's sense of the fitness of things almost created an international incident.

Tired of Russian fighter aircraft practicing attacks on the RAF York in which he was navigator, the Edmonton boy shot a red V-very peace flag at the Soviet plane. The flare was used usually as a signal.

The sky was lit up for miles around. "That was a mighty stupid Russian action," said Alekht, who now lives at 1200 St. John's Road, having obtained his discharge from the RAF on compassionate grounds because of his father's illness.

"The Russian reported the incident," he said, "and as there was one aircraft every three months at our level, and other aircraft at various elevations, no one could tell it down to a particular aircraft."

"But I still think it was appropriate," he said.

City Plant Gets Efficiency Award

Third Time in Four Years For Frozen Food Company

For the second time in three years of operation, the Frozen Food Locker Company of Edmonton has received the merit award shield for operating the most efficient food locker plant in Alberta.

At the fifth annual convention of frozen food locker operators held in Calgary recently, Peter Pennington, plant superintendent, received the award from D. H. McCulloch, deputy commissioner.

The Bruce Robinson Electric Award of Merit is presented by the Alberta Quick Freeze Locker Association in conjunction with the provincial department of agriculture.

It is a yearly award, presented on a basis of sanitation, safety, appearance, equipment and every phase of the locker industry.

The Edmonton firm received this award in competition with 129 locker plants throughout Alberta, second and third place awards went to the Western Locker and Storage of Medicine Hat and Tabor Frozen Foods. In addition to the shield the winners received cash awards.

D. W. Smith is manager of the Edmonton firm, which has been in operation since 1946. His plant was awarded this year for the second time, and it had been awarded in 1947 and came out on top again in 1948.

When he went on the Berlin airlift in August 1948, he was navigator on the Berlin airlift, but actually flying from Wunstorf (near Hannover), Germany, to Gatow airport, Berlin. He thought it was unfair for 3 months of work regularly three times a day for two weeks, then had one week's rest, for every four months.

Western Nations can keep up the airlift indefinitely, he believes. In August, ratings in Berlin were increased over the aerial prior to the blockade ending solely to the aid.

"The Germans think we are wonderful," he said, "and we give up hope for a better Germany," he declared.

The 26-year-old youth hopes to start a regular job with an airline in Canada. Meanwhile he is on a vacation-kid leave, "making the adventure of the airlift somewhat."

LOW LEVEL BRIDGE PLAN NEARS FINISH

Traffic will be running over the new low level bridge by mid-May, according to J. A. D. Macdonald, city engineer.

The structure is being rapidly rushed to completion and few disappointments were encountered to date.

Saturday workers will start laying the steel grid floor. Superstructure of the bridge has been completed, and all false work removed, Mr. Macdonald stated.

When the first floor is completed the final paving work on the bridge will be done by city engineers' force.

With completion of the superstructure on schedule all danger of damage through spring river breakups has been removed, Mr. Macdonald stated.

Following is the standing of provinces in the drive:

Manitoba, Quebec, British Columbia, Saskatchewan, Alberta, Ontario, New Brunswick, Nova Scotia.

Two Sweet Counters As EAC's Drub Calgarians To Jump Back Into Junior Picture

THE YOUNG MAN who pulled the trigger on this fifty goal, Ken Watson, shifty EAC pivot, was missing as the camera shutter clicked in EAC-Calgary Buffalo junior game last night. Watson left go with a bullet-like back-hander that gave goalie Bob Bartlett no chance for a save. Kay Strate set up Watson for the goal, the first of the evening.

NIFTY GOAL was scored by Eldor Thomas, EAC winger, as the Chummen blunted Buffaloes 5-0 at the Arena. Thomas had Bob Bartlett beaten all the way, pulling the goalie in fine fashion before pushing the disc into the open net. That's Cal Oughton, Calgary defenceman, looking on. It was the second counter of the night.

Time Out

STAMPED PSYCHOSIS
Your correspondent has written before about Calgary's Stampede psychosis. It may never be as violent as it was last fall, when Indians and cowboys of the greater fourth area would pause in the midst of most evening tasks to glance at the paper and eye what Leo Lear and his football players had for lunch.

However, the complex is still alive. Today the average cowboy on Okaville or Pedlar is asked, "How do you like the Stampede?" and he'll answer, "Well, I have had the privilege of proving the Stampede roster for the year and the following information is divided free of charge to the cowpoke and his colleagues."

HOOPER HELPS OUT

The Grey Cup champions have not only lost such stalwarts as Paul Brown and Chuck Anderson. In addition, last year's water boy has been signed yet and will probably be a hold out. However, Mr. Lear has his eye on a Winnipeg boy for the job. And who is in pretty fair and whose chief task is handling a lot with the water bottle. Only last week, when discussing this amazing prospect, Lear is reported to have said:

"It will be a real opportunity for the kid if he signs with us. He only pays half price to get into the games just to sit beside me on the bench and I allowed all the water he can drink."

Recently Lear was out on an extensive tour. Last night, as he was leaving the U.S. Federal Bureau of Investigation sent Lee a list of football players who have been suspended for life from the gridiron. One of these whom Lear investigated was a whole of running half with the name Waulders. Unfortunately, this proved to be the Turk government. It was more than time, as he was not available for this year's Stampede. Lear found out for himself of being a fool for arranging his grandfather, as Lear first believed, that he was taking a rap for embezzlement.

If he knows that much about money we don't want to know him. Mr. Lear sagely observed.

ACCENT ON YOUTH

You gave him a lot in the Stampede, didn't you? The way they are about youth. Only last week one of Lear's assistants, if you will, told me that he had seen a young man named Tom Brook... signed an eight-year contract and was expected to be a school yard. That's right.

"He's one of the best prospects I've seen in a long time and in two years he'll be the best broken-field runner in the west. Signed him cheap. Now we keep him in all-day suckers and provide him with a 25-cent diet of silver or weak night."

Wendell Wilson Stride, grand Negro end, was a part of the Stampede program in 1948. He started the game in a decade 21 years ago, but three years, between September and November, and finished the number 20. Lear expects him to come in at a Friday 25 this spring if the dearest promise hasn't suffered from this winter.

With things going so well in their Calgary figure Edmonton picked the worst possible week to meet for the conference. For the Stampede are not to cancel all the talent they can get. And if Lear can convince the American press that it would be wise to get back into the amateur game in Canada where the real money is, the Stampede just might keep that Grey Cup.

Hershey Signs Semi-Final Spot

INDIANAPOLIS, March 25 (CP)—Hershey Bears advanced to the American Hockey League playoffs last night by defeating Indianapolis Capitals 4-2 in their final-of-five series in two straight games. Here, Canis called twice for the winner, Glen Rose, and the Bears added single tallies. Glen Rose, who had scored in the first game, was the hero in the final game, scoring the third goal.

Munro-Inspired Clubmen Wallop Buffaloes by 5-0

Watson, Laubman Earn Lions Share of Credit

By Jim Algeo

Scotty Munro, newest of five EAC coaches this season, has a dynamic personality. Talk to him for a few moments and in no time he will have you believing most everything he has to say, except possibly when he gives you the solemn, of which he has a headful.

And last night at the Arena as EAC's blunted Calgary 5-0 to draw another game of Buffaloes in the best-of-seven Alberta Junior final. Munro appeared to have the Clubmen thinking they were characters fresh out of an NHL script. The outlanders scored the first two goals 10-1 and 6-1 in the first.

He must have told Wally Laubman that he could pull off a shut-out just as well as the great. But he did, and that all the rest could play it, and play it better, than the Bulls from the football.

IN A DREAM
They went like a dream. And they went about their chores in as radiant a fashion as a dream can follow.

They whittled the feet-footed Bulls down to size in the opening 30 minutes, and then gained momentum over the remaining time, scoring two in the second and a in the final while checking the Bulls from the football.

For in his many years of going into his foggy crystal ball, Mr. Munro has been wrong many times. He was off the beam again the other day by strongly indicating that Edmonton didn't have a junior hockey team following Calgary's 10-1 win in the opening game.

He even went so far as to hint that about EAC's loss as badly in the second game that the Alberta championship be awarded to Buffalo.

After all, Mr. Munro, the series was billed as a best-of-seven affair. Let's keep it that way.

But Mr. Munro takes the pains to familiarize himself with the youthful, untried EAC's. He would have seen a team loaded with a fighting spirit that would make a junior hockey team following Calgary's 10-1 win in the opening game.

Also he would have uncovered a club which is but one of four which operated in the Edmonton area, not one "packed team like Calgary."

As so experienced as they are the Clubmen got back at Mr. Munro last night when they won 5-0 in the final. What a red face you should have, Mr. Munro.

Don Fraser, Jim Strickland and Bob Carlson, Ed Finney, Bob Schmidt, and more of the Calgary team of a "shut-out" sure goal, through the midway mark of the end-of-season. He continued in the final game, but the star, who in the early going proved the "shut in the arm" the Clubmen needed.

Time after time he literally rolled Bob Carlson, Ed Finney, Bob Schmidt, and more of the Calgary team of a "shut-out" sure goal, through the midway mark of the end-of-season. He continued in the final game, but the star, who in the early going proved the "shut in the arm" the Clubmen needed.

Archery Title To Copeland

8 EDMONTON BULLETIN, Friday, March 25, 1949.

Bob Copeland of the Edmonton Archery Club can claim to be the city's Robin Hood this day.

For last night at Variety drive in competition with U of A archers, he emulated the bandit of Sherwood Forest as he fired arrows straight and true in the Edmonton championship. Copeland clinched the men's singles title with 726 points, 66 better than his nearest rival and 36 better than the city record. It was his second championship in as many years.

And last to make sure the house of Copeland brought home the home beyond doubt. Bob Copeland captured the ladies singles event. Mrs. Copeland scored 614 points out of a possible 810 for her second straight Edmonton championship.

Varsity competitors left the field in the team championships. The collegiate men—Don Potter, Fred Campbell, Steven Paulsen and Bob Bell—scored 208 points compared to the Edmonton Archers 228. The green and gold effort edged the former Edmonton champions by 94 points.

Dorcas Christian, Dorothy and Jean Hargrave, and Ann Wyand formed the Varsity females crew while scoring up with a total of 2,007 points, 42 better than the previous existing high. Edmonton Archers ladies led off 1,082 points.

Schriner Feels WCHL Is Not Big Time Stuff

A couple of guys in Calgary told Dave (Sweeney) Schriner that the Western Canada Hockey League is as good as a professional league.

Sweeney disagreed and now at 27 he is riding the crest of a great comeback, just to prove he was right.

BALD AND BULGY
Getting bald, and a little bulgy in spots, the man who retired from the National Hockey League three years ago, probably the Western League's most dangerous man around the net.

Last night he was up to his old tricks, scoring both his team's goals as Regina Capitals battled to a 2-1 tie with Edmonton Flyers, Allan Cup champions of the 1947-48 season.

Congratulated after the game, Sweeney shrugged and commented: "They were on the east side; I'm on the west side."

Both times he was parked just outside the crease and merely deflected passes behind Keith Woodall in the Edmonton net.

SAVES HIS OWN
Nobody could ever accuse Schriner of wasting any energy, and now that he's older, he's more eager than ever. But Sweeney can still get into high gear quickly when there is a scoring opportunity.

In the third game of the best-of-five series, he scored twice away alone four times in one period and outlasted younger opponents to the Edmonton net.

Asked why he was making a hockey comeback, Sweeney replied: "I wanted to prove to a couple of guys in Calgary that I could still play in this league."

Did he mean the WCHL is not close to professional hockey? Sweeney replied: "Not in my book."

REGINA WELL AHEAD
Regina leads the series with three straight wins and a tie. Four games, and Schriner has been one of the misfired men on a hard-driving team that many think will supply Edmonton Flyers as Canada champions.

Sweeney was picked for left wing on the league's all-star second team. Other players in the loop, sports writers, and commentators agreed.

He was 14th among point-getters on the regular schedule with 36 goals and 23 assists for 59 points, although he played only 36 games, less than any other player in scoring. In seven play-off games he has been opening goals seven times.

WRIGHT BROTHERS: Pooh, a couple of Johnny-Come-Lately's—at least that's the inference of the latest Russian claim to a scientific "first." The U.S.R. claims a Russian invented an airplane on July 20, 1882, and produced the picture above to "prove" it. It shows, according to the Soviet captain, "Mashkova's plane, on the runway made of boards, before the takeoff for the world's first flight in a heavy-duty machine." Unable to furnish actual photographs, the Russians supplied a painting.

FLYING TACKLE of a London Bobby on a demonstrator was caught by news cameraman during a clash between Communists and Mosley Fascists. The East End riot started when Fascists and Reds, meeting within 100 yards of each other, started a fight which attracted traffic and took police hours to break up.

British Grain Traders Fear for Wheat Treaty

LONDON, March 25.—(Reuters)—British grain traders doubt whether the International Wheat Agreement, to be signed on or before April 15 by 42 countries, will be ratified or fully kept.

They think 450,000 bushels mentioned will exceed the real requirements of importing countries.

This quantity excludes all the requirements of Germany, Austria, Japan and the Philippines, which are United States responsibilities and reserves.

OTHERS HAVE GAIN
It also excludes all quantities of wheat which importers may buy from Argentina, a normally big exporter, and from Russia, Rumania, Yugoslavia, Hungary, North Africa, Chile and any other country which comes out as an exporter beyond the five countries named in the agreement.

In the aggregate, the importing countries will thus have to take far more wheat than they look before the war—at a time when they are striving to increase their own crops and restrict imports to a minimum.

Sir Stafford Cripps, chancellor of the exchequer, indicated in advance that the price fixed in the Anglo-Canadian wheat contract for next season will stand, regardless of lower prices in the international agreement.

MARSHALL AID INTERVIEWS
Traders here did not know how this would be reconciled with Marshall aid, since the Anglo-Canadian agreement is dependent on Marshall-aid financing, which cannot be applied if the price paid to Canada surpasses the United States price.

United States commodities, which have already been raised, are expected here to increase.

Since existing bulk contracts can be incorporated in the international agreement, 140,000,000 bushels of Canada's export quota of 200,000,000 bushels and of Britain's import obligation of 177,000,000 bushels are already committed for next season.

Beyond that, Canada is regarded as the most vulnerable of the major exporters if world supplies exceed import requirements.

Food Marketing Legislation Asked

Last of Five Emergency Measures Before House

By Robert W. Roroff
OTTAWA, March 25.—(BUP)—Commons continued debate today on second reading of a bill to extend the Agricultural Products Act for another year.

The measure was the last of the five pieces of emergency legislation before the house this session. The other four were all given third and final readings. If it is not renewed, this act will lapse on March 31.

ALL GOVERNMENT
It governs the marketing of all agricultural products, except wheat, sold by Canada to foreign countries. The only contracts now under its terms are those with Britain for eggs, cheese and bacon.

In yesterday's session, Commons Voted 138 to 58 to allow the agricultural products measure to be introduced and later give it formal first reading.

2. Give third reading to a bill privileging the Canadian Commercial Corporation Act for another year, and to a bill amending the Mail Contracts Supplemental Payments Act.

LEGAL ARGUMENT
Debate tonight on second reading of the bill on agriculture was highlighted by a legal argument between Hon. J. G. (P.C. Eglington), and Justice Minister Fleming referred to a speech Garson made earlier when the house was considering a resolution to admit the bill. He argued that the minister held that parliament should not be concerned with whether or not legislation brought before it was constitutional.

He related charges the government was assuaging the constitution and said the justice minister's advice to the chamber "has marked again the determined drive to success."

Inside Hollywood

By Bob Thomas

HOLLYWOOD, (AP)—Today 100 workers descend on the old Vitaphone lot to start converting it to a television studio. They are advised to tread lightly, for many a ghost walks the place.

In the minds of sentimentalists, the Vitaphone lot is a shrine of half-forgotten movie epics. The shades of faded film favorites were its residents long ago. The ironical that these will-tho-the-wisdom should be stirred by the new and bright modernity was made manifest.

Back in 1908, Albert E. Smith, Stuart Blackton and "Frog" Back founded Vitaphone in New York. They started by making minute-long flickers, gradually worked up to one-reels, then three-reels.

In the 1910's, the movie industry began its westward search for more room. The film makers left New York and New Jersey for southern California, where the tropical climate permitted better outdoor shooting.

Vitaphone set up shop in Santa Monica in 1911, but the fog drove the studio inland. In 1912, the company bought 28 acres at the end of Hollywood Boulevard and the studio began its long career, shooting.

The years have dimmed the glittering images that worked for the old Vitaphone company. Larry Semon, Jean YVES, Percy Marmont and Bill Duncan are unknown to present generations. The original versions of "Candide" and "If Winter Comes" were made on the lot.

Now 19-100 Vitaphone found itself overtaken by new and more adventurous film makers. The company was sold out for several million to four up-and-coming brothers named Warner.

The Warners are added new glamour to the Vitaphone lot. The Warners' biggest star barbed and painted and paraded over its rocks and hills. He was Rudolph Valentino.

The huge theatre set, which will stand, was the scene for many Warners musicals including "Gold Diggers" and the Gold Diggers series.
